

GETTING PAID? TRICKS OF THE TRADE FOR TOUGH ECONOMIC TIMES

MECHANIC'S LIENS, STOP NOTICES & DESIGN PROFESSIONAL LIENS

COMPLIMENTARY SEMINAR

In these difficult economic times, ensuring that you receive compensation for the services provided on a construction project is paramount. In the design and construction industry, a mechanic's lien and stop notice can be powerful legal tools to obtain payment. However, a solid understanding of the lien and stop notice processes is necessary to make sure that each step is completed correctly and within the narrow time period allowed by law. In this seminar we will walk you through the California mechanic's lien and stop notice processes, including preparing and serving the necessary prerequisites, proper recording, and the perfection process, as well as recent changes to California Civil Code that can affect the validity of your lien or stop notice. We will also discuss other remedies that are available, including payment and performance bonds, design professional liens and additional strategies your business can implement to ensure timely compensation.
