

MODIFICATION OF CALIFORNIA'S MECHANIC'S LIEN AND STOP NOTICE LAW COMMENCING JULY 1, 2012

A GUIDE FOR ENFORCEMENT OF MECHANIC'S LIENS, STOP NOTICES AND PAYMENT BONDS PERTAINING TO CALIFORNIA'S MODIFIED LAW

COMPLIMENTARY SEMINAR

In these difficult economic times, ensuring that you receive compensation for the services provided on a construction project is paramount. In the design and construction industry, a mechanic's lien and stop notice can be powerful legal tools to obtain payment. However, California law will be significantly revised, commencing on July 1, 2012.

This seminar will give you a solid understanding of these changes, including:

- New time-frames
- New notice requirements
- New forms (preliminary notice, mechanic's lien, stop payment notice)
- Making sure your contracts and other documentation are ready for 2012

Even if you have already attended a seminar on mechanic's liens, stop notices and payment bonds, you may not have all of the information you need to know in order to make sure your business complies with these changes.

Presented by: D. Creighton Sebra, Esq. and Theodore D. Levin, Esq., P.E., of Morris Polich & Purdy LLP

Audience: This complimentary seminar will provide useful insight for any design professional in the construction industry, including architects, engineers, designers, and land surveyors.
